HICKSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

WE CARRY THE "H" FLAG, TOO

THIS FLAG IS FOR HICKSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL AND ALSO FOR THE TWENTY-EIGHTH EDITION OF OUR YEARBOOK FEATURING THE RECORD OF OUR 1942-43 SCHOOL YEAR . . .

HIXONIAN

FIVE E's DOMINATED OUR YEAR

Effort to win the war, endeavor in classrooms, energy in classes, excitement in athletics and enthusiasm in activities—all of these played a large part in our school year. But with these we also had some exhilarating hours—that time when we put away our books and pencils and paper, to enjoy the lighter moments of life. In this edition of the HIXONIAN, we are picturing our activities animated by these E's.

Mindred Schaufelberger, Neal Keller, and Marcile Cottrell are drilling to sharpen their wits in the all-important field of mathematics.

Their contribution to the war effort is the building of model airplanes: Max Grover, Paul Jones, Max Ginther, Gene Neidhardt, Steve Sabo, Richard Silvers, Dallas Brown and Fred Plum.

Mimeographing the SPOON-
DRIFT is the task before Editors
Barbara Yarger and Francis Smith and Jeanette Harvey and John Keller.

Hicksville and Paulding are battling for grid honors.

Loring Bearbower, Gerald Leub, Suzanne Malott and Junior Bager are interested in a physics experiment.

FOR OUR WAR EFFORT

As other schools worked toward the war effort, so ours followed, perhaps on a more limited scale—but nevertheless, earnestly. A class in preflight training was introduced, and programs of the commercial, mathematics, industrial arts, science, physical education, and agriculture classes were broadened to meet the needs of a country in war.

Scrap drives, war bond sales, donations for Christmas gifts and kit bags for soldiers all were a part of the regular routine of the school.

Second year stenographers at work.

TO OUR TEACHERS AND

To those Hicksville men in the Armed Forces who are fighting that they might have a free world in which to live, the Class of '43 dedicates the 1943 HIXONIAN.

Especially do they wish to honor the four faculty members, Ensign Joe Riddle, Lt. Gerald Sapp, Lt. Robert Wayland, and Radio Technician second class Hugh Austermiller, who left their teaching positions that they might help secure a peaceful world.

To all these men, the Class of '43 expresses a sincere appreciation for their help on the battlefields and in the training camps the world over.

Word of the death of Ensign Riddle, who was piloting a dive bomber in the South Pacific, grieved the hearts of all those who knew him. But their grief is lessened as they recall that Joe was doing cheerfully, without complaint, what he knew was his duty

FOR ENDEAVOR IN CLASSROOMS

Margaret Panasuk is getting a little practice in conjugating Latin verbs while Rosalyn Daub Frances Kees and Joan Plum look on in an effort to clear their hazy minds. Such classroom instruction, very much individualized, is prevalent in Hicksville High School.

Mr. R. C. Fox

Superintendent

Mr. Fox with the aid of his teaching staff has made many changes in regular routine during the past year. These changes were in line with those of other schools prompted to keep abreast of war.

AIDING IN OUR

Changes such as those pictured were typical of a normal day in any classroom.

The rest of the letter is devoted to a discussion of the various aspects of the problem, and the author concludes by stating that the problem is still open.

The membership of the committee was representative from all major groups in the area. After the first session it was decided the next week to the first session the other representatives forming his organization the first of the year.

The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the asymptotic behavior of the sequence of functions  $f_n(x)$  defined by the recurrence relation  $f_{n+1}(x) = f_n(x) + \frac{1}{n} f_n'(x)$ . It is shown that the sequence converges to a function  $f(x)$  which satisfies the differential equation  $f'(x) = f(x)$ . The second part of the paper is devoted to the study of the asymptotic behavior of the sequence of functions  $g_n(x)$  defined by the recurrence relation  $g_{n+1}(x) = g_n(x) + \frac{1}{n} g_n''(x)$ . It is shown that the sequence converges to a function  $g(x)$  which satisfies the differential equation  $g''(x) = g(x)$ .

Revised manuscript received 12 May 1993. Accepted for publication 12 May 1993. Address correspondence to: Dr. J. A. J. H. van't Hof, Department of Pathology, University Hospital Groningen, P.O. Box 30.001, 3000 RB Groningen, The Netherlands.

Several training sessions were held in a center, called "Calender Nitro" and the participants were given a 15-20 minute presentation. The presentation was in a format with the following topics: a variety of various activities and a variety of other topics.

Officer [redacted] advised that he had been contacted by Mr. R. C. Fox on April 10, 1968, at approximately 10:30 p.m., regarding the arrest of Maxine [redacted].

Musically Minded . . .

Mr. Frank Kunkle, Hicksville's music teacher, is a very busy man. He spends much of his time working with the band, drum and bugle corps, twirlers and a cappella choir. As though this were not enough, he is also busily engaged in training the grade children to sing in "tune."

A junior high chorus and several instrumental groups are additional groups needing guidance.

Somehow, he gets all the organizations' practices in his week's schedule—and they are well trained groups.

Marching Along...

Mr. Frank Barker is the director of the high school band, now composed of forty-two members. During the school year the band performed at one home football game, nearly all the home basketball games, a football rally, and a band recruiting program.

Playing at the Friends convention, at Depue and the [?]ance County fair were the bands under direction.

Because of lack of transportation the band made only two town appearances during the school year. Service songs such as The Marine Hymn, Army Air Corps, and The Cassin Song were their outstanding marches. Two concert numbers, Merr, Maiden Overture and Per An Market were also favorites during practices.

Of Them I Sing . . .

The chorus is composed of thirty-eight members under the direction of Mr. Frank Kunke. Although it is a fine chorus, they won no contests this year as in previous years. Lack of transportation kept them from entering in district and state contests as in former years. The group gave an excellent Christmas program consisting of Christmas carols and other appropriate songs. In this program they were assisted by the Junior High chorus and an instrumental sextet.

Recently they have been practicing two important numbers: "Beside the Lord O My Son" by Vanner and "A Long Day Closes" by Sullivan.

T-r-r-r-u-u-mp, T-r-r-r-u-u-mp!

The drum corps is composed of six girls: Lois Aten, Virginia Harter, Jeanne Lehman, Ruth Lantz, Florence Cole, and Barbara Koch, who along with the band and twirling corps performed at the Defiance County fair. They also played at the Firemen's convention, a home football game and several home basketball games.

Peggy Roan, drum majorette, is their leader

Exhibitionists . . .

The twirling corps is made up of nine girls. Nadine Johnston, Patsy Seibert, Joan Mettert, Genevieve Fry, Roselene Wonderly, Gloria Johnston, Nancy Miller, Harriet Gerig and Eudora Reitz. They have appeared with the band at the Defiance County fair, Firemen's convention, a home football game, and at several basketball games. The twirlers add much color to the band and drum corps.

Publishing The YEARBOOK . . .

The 1943 HIXONIAN, first published by the Senior Class, has given them much pleasure in the months they have spent working together. It is the desire and hope of the entire staff and its associate members of the Class of '43, that the readers will gain as much pleasure from the contents as did those who worked so diligently to publish it.

Members of the Journalism class made up the staff and made the important decisions, and did the work on the book.

Spoondrift

To Press It Goes

The junior members of the Journalism Class were responsible for the publication of the SPOONDRIFT. The paper, published as a classroom project, enabled parents to get a clearer and better understanding of the activities of the school and to become familiar with the school's principles and functions.

The SPOONDRIFT was published bi-weekly, each issue containing either six or eight pages. The circulation totaled 380 copies.

All typing and mimeograph work was done by the advanced typing and mimeography classes under the direction of Mr. J. J. W. and Mrs. Wendell Culler.

THEY TILL THE SOIL...

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of farm boys between the ages of fourteen and twenty-one. The ideas upon which the organization is built are leadership, character development, sportsmanship, cooperation, service, thrift, scholarship, improved agriculture, organized recreation, citizenship and patriotism.

There are four degrees of membership: "Green Hand," "Future Farmer," "State Farmer," "American Farmer." The local chapter determines the first two advancements; the state determines the third; and the national organization awards the fourth degree.

Officers are: Glen Green, president; Paul Dietz, vice president; Richard Shull, secretary; Ray Bruggeman, assistant secretary; Loring Beerbower, treasurer; Carl Scott, assistant treasurer; Paul Sivers, reporter; Duane Rohrs, assistant reporter; Mr. R. W. Barnes, adviser.

Other members are: William Shull, James Timbrook, Lynn Smith, and Douglas Miller.

THE CAKE DIDN'T FALL . . .

The F.H.A., local chapter of the widely known Future Homemakers' Association, has now been organized three years. The national organization is a high school girl who have taken on the home economics. Based on the amount of work they have completed, there are five degrees of membership through which they pass: Little Women, Fireside Circle, Future Homemaker, Future Homemaker of Ohio, and Future Homemaker of America.

The purpose of the organization is to help in the activities in home economics, to help a girl gain confidence in her work, to understand future problems, and to adjust herself to her surrounding.

Chapter officers are: Bette Wells, president; Freda Peter, vice president; Betty Babcock, secretary; Eleanor Hetz, treasurer.

FOR EXCITEMENT IN ATHLETICS

Helen Connor prepares to shoot a "free throw"
 by Genevieve Frank, Marilyn Bowsher, Eleanor Hetz and Jeanne Escherich on. These and other girls are as active in athletics as the boys, who always are in the spotlight because of their interesting athletic competition.

They Lead Our Yells . . .

After being as much attention as the team at the games are the quartet who lead the cheers that spur the players to victory. Helen Fernon, Marjorie Parson, Maude Cook, and Peggy Ryan are spectacular in their red and white dresses when they give their well-planned leadership to the cheering sections.

He's Our Coach . . .

Mr. Harold Wallace, Hicksville mentor for the past two years, has had teams with enviable records. While the basketball teams have won more honors, the football team has by no means disgraced the school.

The Aces did very well in the district tournament, as well as throughout the season.

Mr. Wallace will be greatly missed when Uncle Sam claims him.

How They Can Play

By Bill Saunders

Hicksville High School boys basketball team had a 10-1 record last year. They won the state championship in 1955. The team was coached by Coach [redacted] who was a former player. The team was named after the school's first basketball player, [redacted]. The team had a record of 10-1 and won the state championship in 1955.

THE SEASON'S COMPETITION . . .

By Bill Sauders

Football was finally over and Coach Wallace called the first basketball practice. There was a big turn-out for first practice and the squad was chosen after they practiced hard for three weeks. The season opened by defeating Antwerp here November 27, 36 to 23. Bauers and Fetzer paced the Aces, scoring nine points each. Cottrell, Antwerp center, led the contenders with ten points.

Oakwood was Hicksville's next victim. They bowed to Hicksville by a score of 48-30 here on December 1. The score was only 20 to 17 at the half, but Hicksville walked away with them the last half. Bauers chalked up twenty points to pace the Aces, while Harris, Oakwood forward, tallied seventeen points.

Hicksville's next victim was Montpelier, who played here on December 4. A rough game was played with the Aces winning 35 to 26. Football tactics were used on the basketball court in this contest. Fetzer contributed seven goals and five gifters for a total of fourteen points to lead the Aces' scoring.

The Red and White won an easy victory on December 15 here when they walked away with Sherwood: the final score, 61 to 20. Hicksville led at the end of the first quarter 15 to 1. The Aces just couldn't be stopped and Bauers tallied 22 points to pace their attack.

The Aces went to Mark Center for their first out of town game on January 5. Again they proved to be superior, defeating Mark 49 to 32. Bauers was high point man, scoring twenty-one points. Sabo and Hart of Mark were high for the defeated team by tallying 11 points each.

Hicksville entertained Paulding on January 8, who suffered defeat to the tune of 39 to 23. Metz paced the Aces with thirteen points. Hetz and Fetzer both were absent from the line-up.

January 12 proved to be a fatal day for the Aces when they suffered their first defeat by bowing to Ney 33 to 30. Had both Beardsley and Fetzer, who were suffering with mumps, been present, this game might have been a victory. Hetz paced the Aces' attack with thirteen, and Crites, Ney's forward, scored twelve points.

Hicksville suffered its second defeat by a 42 to 38 count. DeLong, Harlan's star forward, led the visitors' attack with seventeen points and Bauers tallied thirteen for Hicksville. Harlan led only one point at the end of the first quarter but maintained a four point margin until the finish.

Hicksville journeyed to Edon on January 22 to defeat the Edon cagers 39 to 22. Hicksville had stopped their two-game losing streak. Metz led the Aces' attack this game with thirteen points, and Zulch, Edon's center, paced the defeated team with ten points.

Hicksville snapped another victory by defeating St. Joe there on January 23 by a score of 42 to 25. Having a hard game with Edon the night before, the Aces proved to be in good form. Hetz went for high honors with fifteen points and Fetters, St. Joe center, slammed in 12 points to lead the losers' scoring.

Hicksville then journeyed to Edgerton to clip them 26 to 16 on January 29. Neither team was hitting and a low score resulted. Bauers scored 11 points.

Hicksville came back home to defeat Mark Center on February 2. In the return game the Aces defeated them 44 to 15. Hetz paced the Red and White attack with 13 points. Mark's highest scorer made only four points.

Sherwood suffered its second defeat at the hands of Hicksville February 9 at Sherwood. The game was another easy victory for the Aces, who piled up a 25 point margin. Beardsley was chief scorer with ten field goals and three gifters for a total of 23 points. Sito Sherwood guard, paced the loser's attack with 16 points.

Hicksville again proved to be slightly superior by defeating Farmer February 12 by a narrow margin 42 to 38. Farmer took the lead and kept it during the first quarter but the Aces snatched it in the second quarter and never again lost their pace. Fritz was high for Farmer with seventeen points to his credit while Bauers looped 13 points for Hicksville.

Bryan suffered defeat when the Aces scored 4 points to their 28 points on February 16. Bryan was unable to keep pace with the Red and White, and was easily downed. Hoffman, Bryan forward, led the Bears attack with eleven points and Hetz paced the Aces with sixteen.

Hicksville closed the cage season by defeating Paulding there February 19, 42 to 29, in a rough and tumble game. Beardsley and Fetzer paced the Aces with Beardsley tallying twelve points and Fetzer chalking up eleven. Lucas, star negro football back of Paulding, tallied nine points to lead the losers.

They Play, Too . . .

The Girls Athletic Association was organized in September under the supervision of Miss Geraldine Toops, the physical education instructor. Sixty-nine girls came to take part in the activities which included basketball, hiking, table tennis, bowling, badminton, and bicycling. Badminton and bicycling were added for the first time.

The meetings were held every Monday night in the gymnasium. The business meetings were conducted by the president, Helen Gorman, or the vice president, Gwen Limpert. The secretary was Maxine Burley, who was assisted by Dorothy Strubing, while Anna Panasuk was treasurer. After the business meetings, the girls participated in the sports.

The main purpose of this organization is to provide some recreation for the girls, because Hicksville no longer has a competitive girls basketball team. In any other organization, the purpose of which is to provide athletic activity. Athletic awards were made at the annual banquet on April 30. Mothers of the members were present.

All girls receiving 100 points or more for participating in hiking, bowing pro pond basketka and boyting received letters. In former years only the first fifteen persons making 100 points received the letters.

Seniors receiving the "H" were Maude Cook, Helen Osmun, Anna Panasuk, Alyene McKinley, Marilyn Bowsner and Margaret Grier.

Pins going to those who received four letters will be worn by Margaret Grier, Marilyn Bowsner, Maude Cook, Helen Osmun and Anna Panasuk.

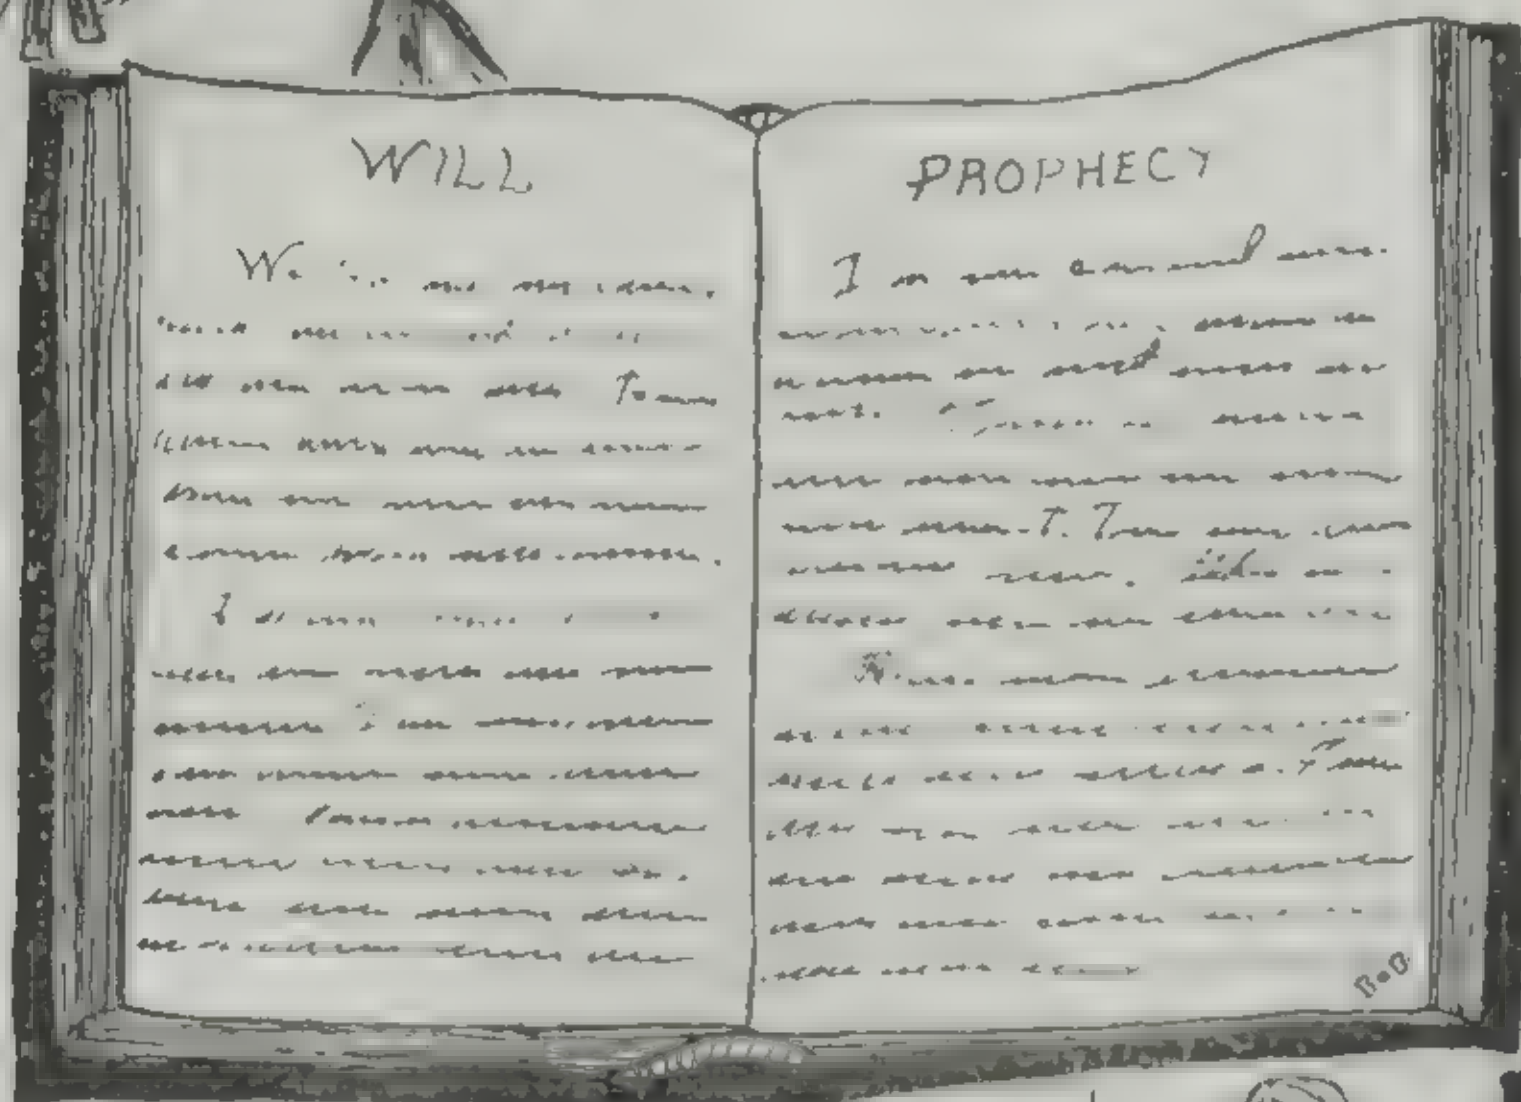

Freshmen receiving letters are Luella Scott, Maurine Tuttle, Frances Rees Bett, Neidhardt Carl, Campbell, Melba Deardouf, Rosalyn Dault, Barbara Blosser, Joanne Laub and Margaret Panasuk.

FOR OUR ELATED HOURS

Art Editor Robert Hilbert drew the montage pictured on the opposite page depicting some of the more carefree moments of a school day.

In this section, the 1943 HIXONIAN records the history of the Hixson classes, quips about the seniors, and information concerning the class plays, as well as the whereabouts of alumni.

IN 1953...

By June Johnson and Marie Brush

When we were graduated from school, our aunt left us a fortune of money to do with as we wished. In 1953, after ten years, we decided to take a tour of the Eastern Hemisphere to locate the Class of '43.

Our first stop was made in Benton Harbor, where, to our surprise, we found Mr. and Mrs. Sholl, (Paul and Ruth Hathaway) making a progressing business out of raising peaches.

The next evening we spent in St. Paul, Minnesota, where we recognized two more of our classmates: Max Fetzer, bellboy, and Neva Wittig, maid, who were employed at the hotel where we stayed.

When we visited the mountains of Colorado to watch the skiers we found Kenneth Wittig trying to dig his way out of a snow pile which he found when he turned a corner too soon.

In Arizona we took in the big Ringley Brothers Circus, where Peggy Roan and Maude Cook were doing an exhibition act of tumbling and Marilyn Bowsher was featured as the shortest woman in the world.

From lack of excitement, we went to a Rodeo in Texas where we found Mindred Schaufelberger and John King proprietors of the "Jot-me-down" Dude Ranch. The special performer we found to be Mildred Marlow opera singer.

Leaving the United States, we came to the exciting country of Mexico, where we went to a bullfight and found Raymond Cole, the champion bullthrower.

When we reached Panama by Clipper we went to the "Tiny Twin" Restaurant! To our surprise, there were the Walters Twins as proprietors of the restaurant and Betty Wells and Lois Kimper as waitresses.

Soon after our arrival in Brazil, we visited one of the large coffee plantations to inquire into the shortage of this delicacy. Here we met the rich foremen of the plantations, Lee Bell and Max Ames.

Crossing into Rio de Janeiro, we attended the yearly festival of the country, and there were Bette Cottrell and Joe Hetz, dancing the famous rumba.

After finishing our tour in South America we crossed the Atlantic on the U.S.S. Gerig and found the captain of the ship to be our old friend and classmate, Bill Sauders.

Our ship landed on Cape of Good Hope at sundown and as we were walking down the street we saw a neon sign, dazzling to our eyes—LeRoy Lynde, Fish Hatchery.

After visiting his fish business, we journeyed to a more prosperous place, Johannesburg. Upon much investigation, we found that Gerald Dull was the owner of one of the richest diamond mines in Africa.

After journeying across country for some time, we came to Arabia, where we found Jack Staup at the head of a camel caravan.

After spending a few days in Arabia, we crossed the Red Sea into Egypt. Here we visited the castle of More-You-Mope, where Judy Sabo was an Egyptian Princess.

We left Egypt to cross the Mediterranean Sea into Greece. On the way we delayed on the Island of Crete, where we found Allyene McKnley had been marooned for weeks.

Finally we reached our destination, Italy, only to be greeted at the dock by Genevieve Hook, who had decreased somewhat in size because of the shortage of food.

Traveling on, we stopped at Germany. Being interested in international news, we went to an under-cover American news station, where, upon opening the door, we heard the familiar voices of Rex Green and Anna Panasuk conferring.

Leaving the hateful country of Germany we went next to Denmark, where my companion hurt her hand. I took her to the hospital and there, to my surprise, she was attended by the head medical doctor, Bob Hilbert.

We stopped to take in the Skiing Contest in Norway and heard the familiar voice of Basil Beardsley as sports reporter and found Darrell Fulmer, the contest winner.

Hearing of the popularity of the Edinburgh University, we visited there out of curiosity. We discovered Wilda Click and Carolyn Belknap were honor students in science.

Being interested in the WAACs, we stopped in England to find Helen Osmun as physical education instructor.

Going due south, we came to London Sunday morning. We decided to attend church at an army camp, a camp for the compulsory military training after graduation from high school. Here Basil Schliesser was Chaplain.

Deciding that we had spent enough time in the Old World, we traveled back across the ocean by plane, where we landed at the "Any Junk Today Airlines" station in Newfoundland to find Leo Headley as special boss.

Our next stop was at Quebec, where we visited a hospital to compare it with one of the United States hospitals. Here Thelma Grover was supervisor, and Cleo Monroe and Ina Schooley were Canadian nurses.

Upon leaving Quebec, we went to New York, where we stopped at a fun house to find Louise Hower the proprietor and were very much amazed to see Barbara Bador present as a debutante.

Back-tracking to Boston, we went to a theater where Loring Beerbower was owner and Nadine Johnston was a prominent pianist.

In Pennsylvania, as we were going through the coal mines, we bumped into a black-faced person who turned out to be Paul Silvers.

Down in West Virginia we decided to have our hair redone, so we went to the "Mussy Hair-do Shop" where Margaret Goller and Freda Peter were beauty operators.

In the bluegrass country of Kentucky, we went to a horse race. We bet our money on the horse we thought would win. When we went to see the horse after the races, we found that Suzanne Malott was the proud owner.

Nearing home, we went to Indiana, where we stopped to get some ice cream at the "Frozen Snow" ice cream parlor, where Wety Bauer, Jr. was the big business executive of the firm.

In the southern part of Ohio we found June Klepper working in a straw factory.

While on the road going back to Michigan, we passed none other than Willa Mae K'sabeth driving a semi-truck for the "Pipe O' Pipe" company.

Upon our arrival back home, we were surprised when we were interrupted by a traveling salesman, Gerald Laub, selling "Stanko" soap.

While it was a pleasant journey and we enjoyed renewing the acquaintances of our classmates, we, like many others, found "There's no place like home."

JUNIORS REMEMBER . . .

By Virginia Lou Thiel

All during the freshman and sophomore years, the class of '44 eagerly looked forward to its junior year, when each member could participate in upper-class activities. Finally September 1942 arrived and the fact that they were growing up. They were Juniors! But as school started two weeks later than usual, it wasn't until September 21 that they actually attained that goal.

While all the normal activities of a busy school year engaged their attention, they became aware of a new change—a realization that they were not living in a normal world. History was being made and they were a part, even though small, of it. When Congress enacted the law to draft sixteen- and seventeen-year-old boys, they knew that many of their schoolmates would be in some branch of the Armed Forces before another year had passed. That fact brought the war closer home.

The class had its share of athletes. Lowell Metz, Clair Sholl, Lee Miller, Gene McCann, Robert Husted, Roger Husted, Harry Robert Bauer, and William Marshall were sturdy juniors on the football team. When the football season ended basketball became the chief interest. Many of the boys participated, such as players Lowell Metz, Clair Sholl, Ned Miller, and Robert Bauer, who were on the varsity.

The school paper, the SPOONDRIFT, is published by the Junior Class each year. Juniors in journalism, under the direction of Mrs. Russell J. Long, ably handled this phase of work.

One event that is of interest to all juniors is the class play, and this year was no exception. The selection of the play, "Red Hot Peppers," the cast, and finally the production, was a difficult task, but an enjoyable one.

Slowly, time passed. Mid-year exams were over and spring, with its busy days, was just ahead. Soon a great day was coming—the Junior-Senior Reception!

In this short history, the highlights of three years have been mentioned. Graduation time came slowly, and the class realized with a tinge of sadness, that their schoolmates for ten years, the Class of '43, had completed their work in Hicksville High School.

Days as juniors are now limited and it is the sincere hope of all that before another year has passed, the world will be at peace—that they, as seniors, may graduate into a constructive world, and each one, in his own way, will help to preserve the "American Way of Life."

"RED HOT PEPPERS"

"Red Hot Peppers," a three act farce-comedy by Reby Edmond, was produced by the Junior Class on December 11. The play was a riotous success and full of excitement for those juniors fortunate to be chosen for a part.

The story presented the Pepper family—a group of five young people whom the neighbors termed "those awful young heathens." The trouble began when Joan wanted to marry a visiting young Frenchman and the family tried to prevent it by convincing the Duc that the family was related to the Kallikak family of feeble-minded notoriety. The Duc became involved with Mary, another member of the Pepper family and Joan eloped with a young man, leaving the Duc for Mary.

The series of events involving the family and their nonsensical friends and servants made the play humorous and down to earth.

Members of the cast were:

Miss Nellie Jane Tyne was in charge of the production, with Martha Beerbower assisting as student director. Genevieve Frye and Gwen Limpert were property managers and Nona Countryman was in charge of the costumes.

Don Wade was business manager, Gene McClellan, LaVon Haver and Clair Kimpel were stage managers. Prompters were Baneta Yarger and Betty Babcock. Leatrice Steele was in charge of between-act entertainment.

SOPHOMORES STEP UP...

By Dorothy Dull

The second stepping stone of Senior High School has been reached by the sophomore class. Only two more stones—and there's the top!

As a group, the class did little; however, several individuals aided the class' prestige. Jack Gloor, Richard Paul Green and Norman Miller played basketball, while Jack also was on the football squad.

Lois Smith, Dorothy Monroe, Patsy Clark and Richard Paul Green were in the band. A number were also in the chorus. G.A.A., F.H.A., and F.F.A.

Paul Dietz served as class president. Daniel Crowl, vice president, and Fred Bliman, secretary-treasurer.

As juniors they anticipate a much more important place in school activities.

FRESHMEN PLAN FUTURE...

By Rosalyn Daub

In the fall of 1942 a group of green, open-mouthed wide-eyed freshmen drifted in to gaze in awe at the faces of Hicksville's upperclassmen. But soon the novelty wore off and all were settled down to routine.

Election of class officers found Fred Malott being made president; JoAnn Beerbower, vice president; Melba Deardorf, secretary-treasurer; and Margaret Panasul, Jeanne Laub, and Barbara Blosser, representatives to the Student Council.

The first big event of the year was the Armistice Day dance which the class sponsored. Later, the group enjoyed a class party. Some of the classmen were in G.A.A., F.H.A., F.F.A., band and chorus. Next year they anticipate a bigger and better part in the school activities.

Eagerly they await the time when they, as sophomores, can yell "Hiya Freshie!"
